Dedication

In keeping with the Bicentennial spirit, we, the staff of the 1976 Cayugan, wish to dedicate this yearbook to Mrs. Phyllis Dickinson, who in our opinion, exemplifies that spirit.

She is always willing to lend a hand in support of school activities, one of which includes her role as advisor to the J.V. cheerleaders. She is also District Coordinator of the Lancaster school library system. Mrs. Dickinson is there to help students and teachers alike in her own distinctive way; in the words of a fellow worker, "She is warm and understanding..... always willing to listen."

Mrs. Dickinson's spirit and dedication to the school is the reason for the dedication of this yearbook to her.

Heritage

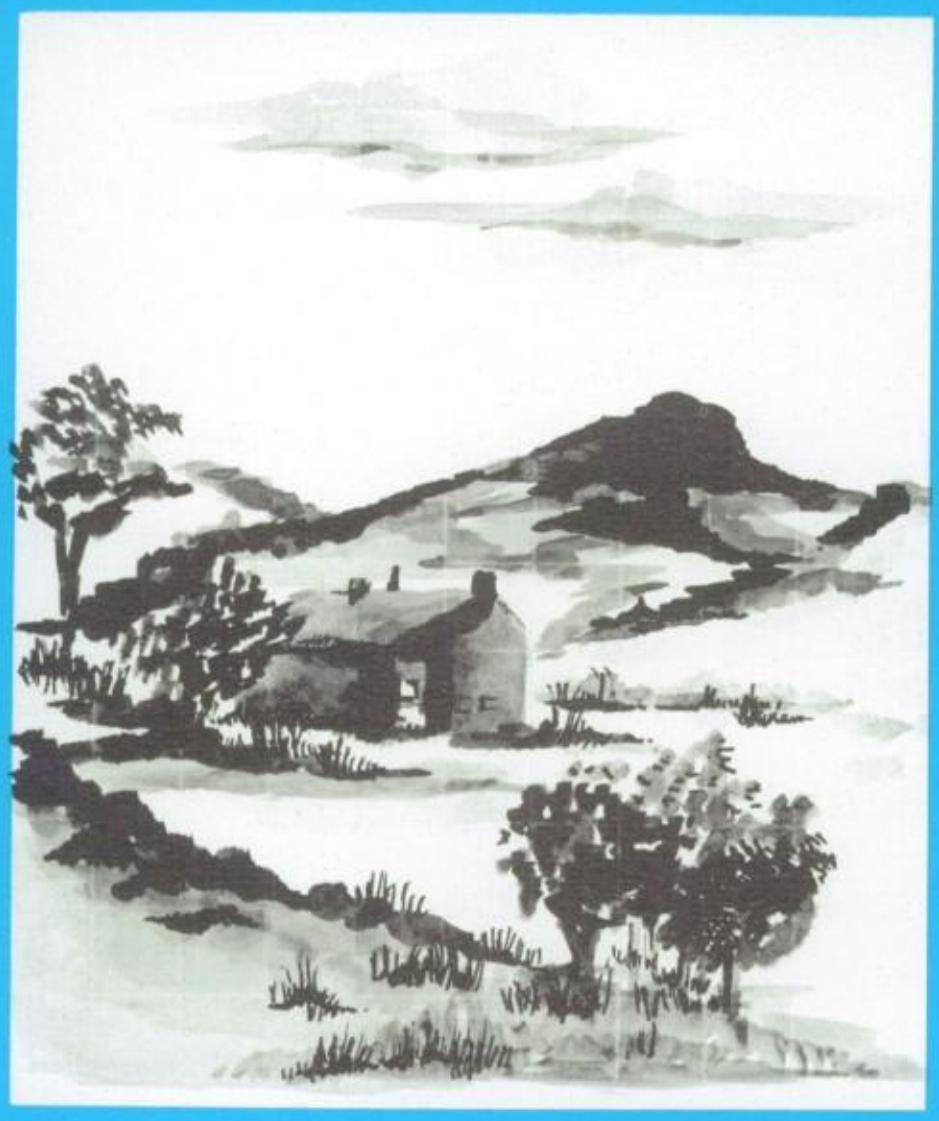
We, the class of 1976, feel that our school life has been enhanced by our past. In this year of the commemoration of the Bicentennial, we wish to look back into our heritage and proclaim our beginnings as a nation, as a town, and as a school.

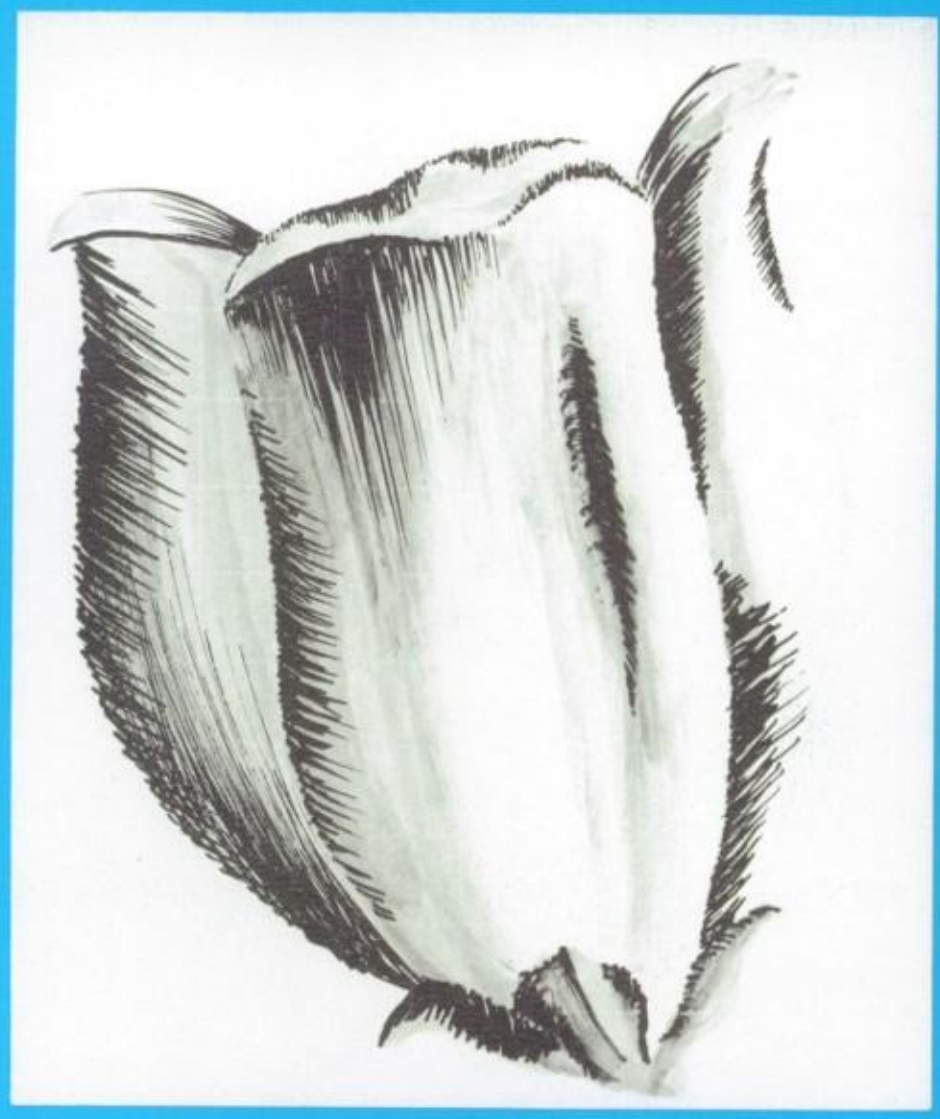
The story of our nation's history is rich and varied. It is familar to all Americans. Every American can feel the Revolutionary spirit, inherited from our forefathers. It has been reflected in our beliefs, attitudes, and feelings. We all believe in individual freedom, equality, and justice.

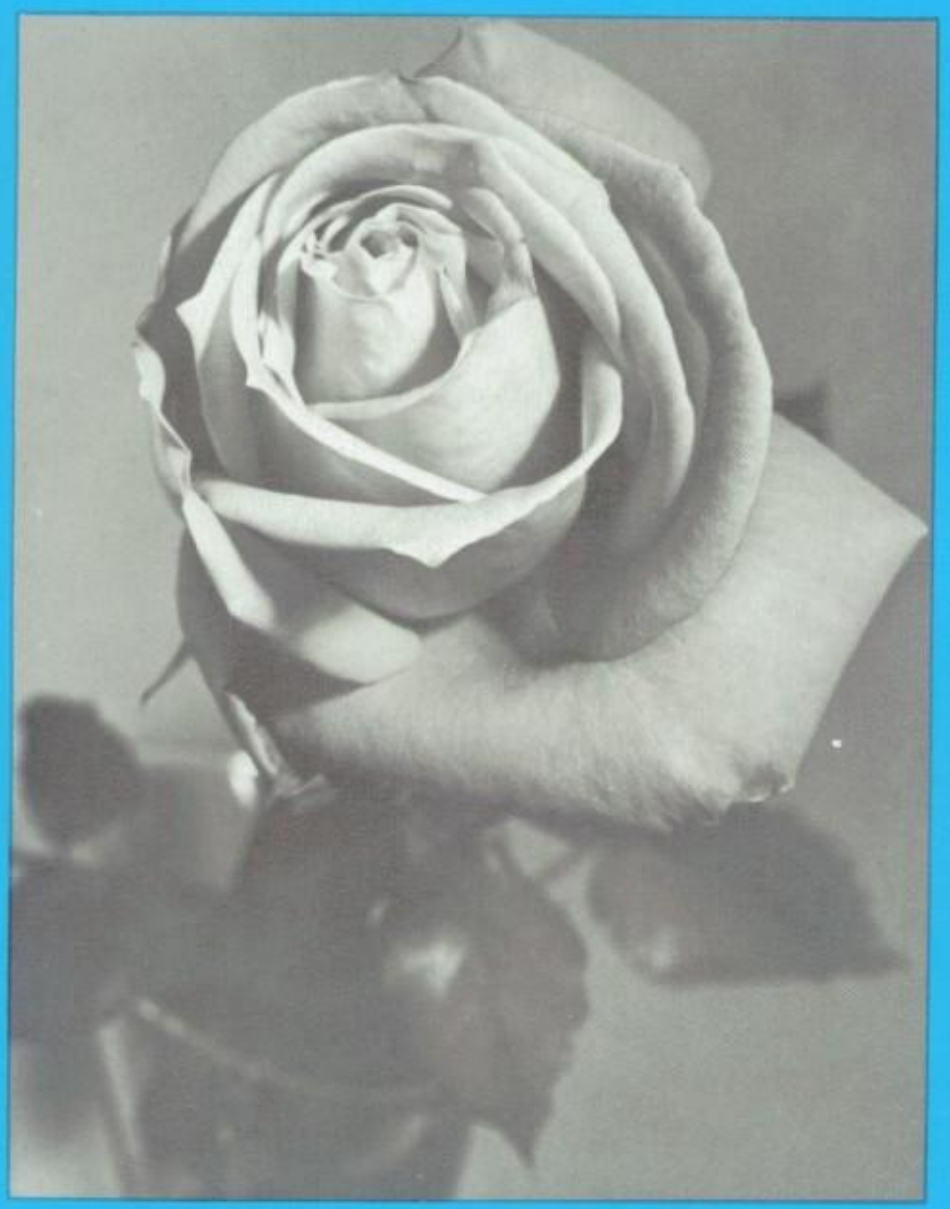
The residents of this town have also been influenced by the history of the area. Lancaster is not celebrating its Bicentennial this year because the first residents settled in the Bowmansville area in 1803. More settlers soon came to this area. In 1810, the first school house was built. A post office was erected in the area in 1823.

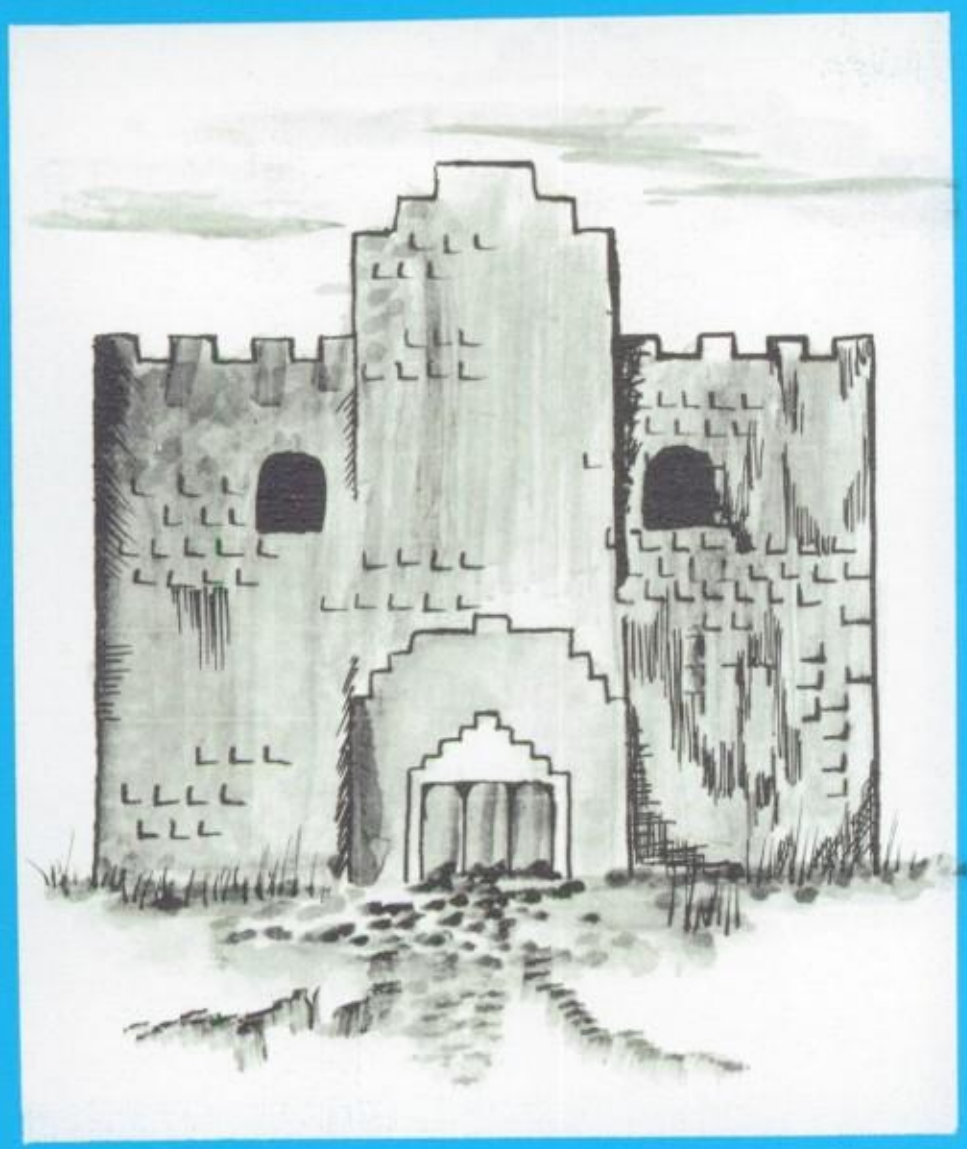
Lancaster, at this time, had been known as Cayuga Creek. It was a town which had developed from the old township of Clarence. Clarence received its name from an English royal duchy. It was discontinued around the early 1800's because the last Duke didn't have a male heir. In 1833, Cayuga Creek was formally called the Township of Lancaster. This name has been taken from a place in England called Lancashire, an English duchy. Lancashire belongs to the House of Lancaster; England's line of Tudor kings came from this house. In 1849, the village of Lancaster was incorporated and its present-day boundaries were formed.

Today, we have a spirit that has been derived from all of these beginnings. It comes out in our school spirit, our pride in our town, and the pride we feel towards our nation. In this Bicentennial year, it is time to renew our spirit and hope that when our country is four hundred years old, our descendents will have inherited the spirit from us. Let us hope that they will recall their heritage.









Lancashire

In following our theme of Heritage, we trace our roots back to the House of Lancaster in Lancashire, England. The symbol of the House of Lancaster is the red rose. The typical image of English heraldry is the knight in shining armor. He stood for the high ideals of chivalry and honor. Another example of this was the castle, which was the center of manoral life and the image of social stability. Each manoral community was represented by its own coat of arms.

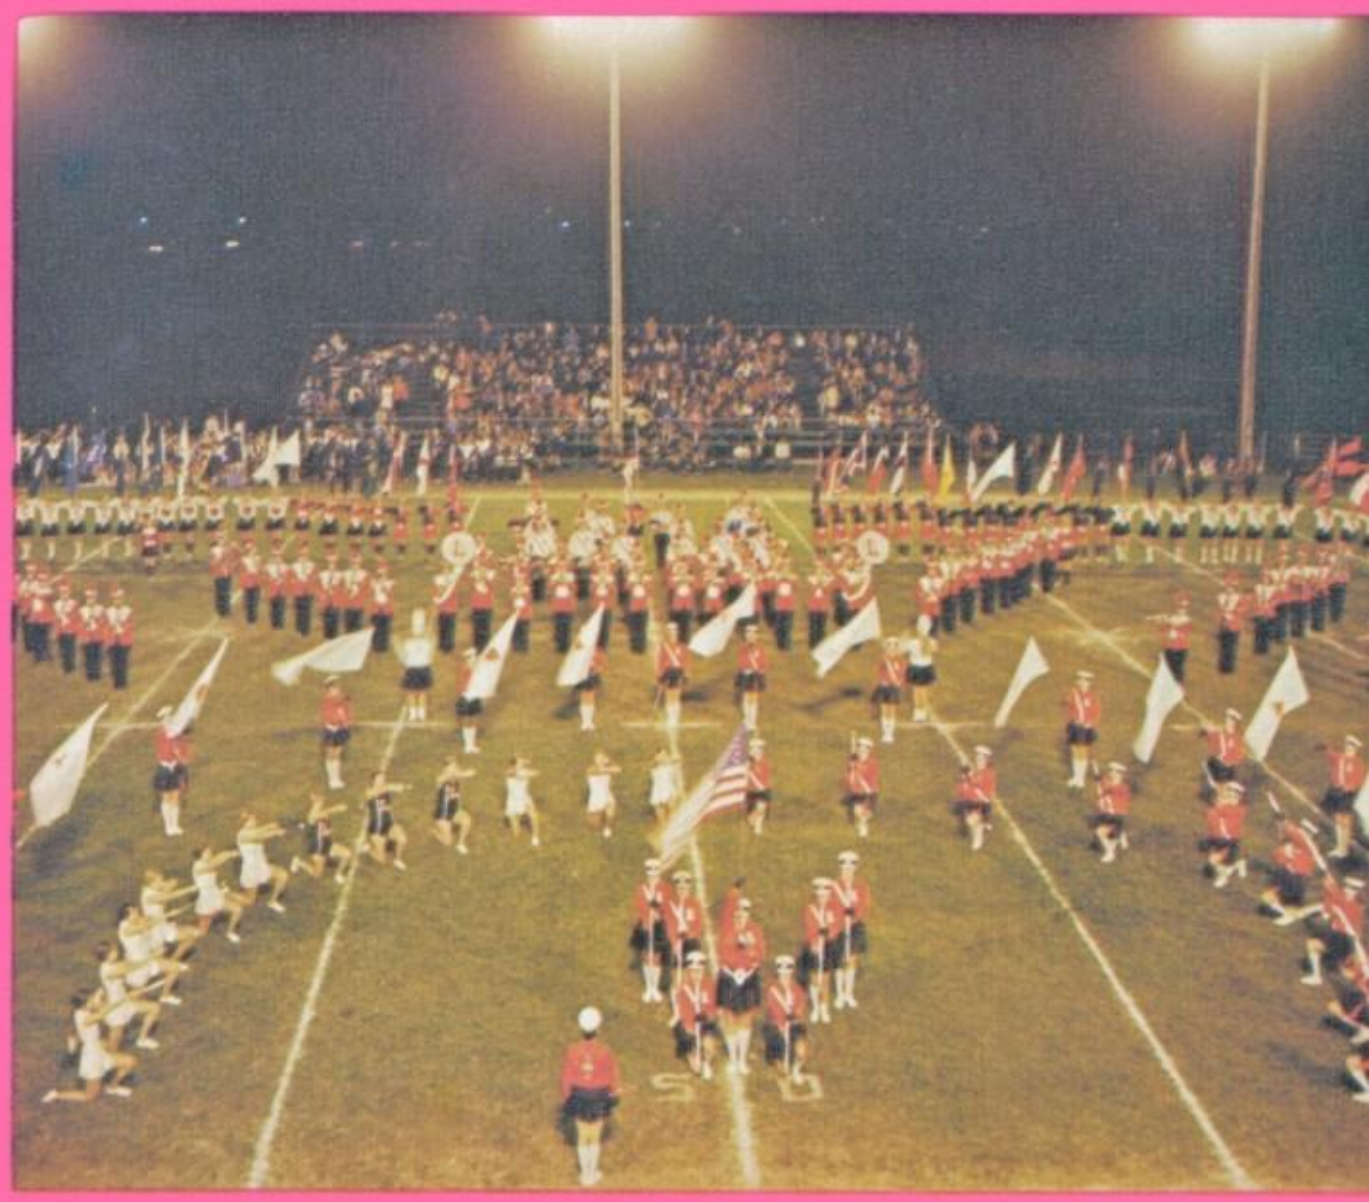
'76 Flag

One of Lancaster High School's contributions to the Bicentennial is the '76 Flag Brigade. It is composed of all of the state flags which were donated upon request by the governors of every state.

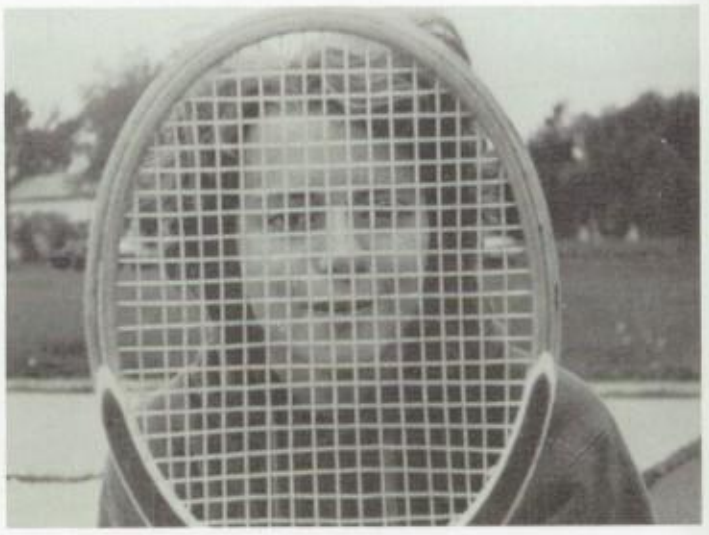
Brigade

The first showing of the '76 Flag Brigade was during half-time of the Oct. 24 football game against Kenmore West. This brigade will make numerous appearances throughout the area in commeration of our Nation's Bicentennial.



It is refreshing to turn to the early incidents of our history, and learn wisdom from the acts of the great men who have gone to their account.

John McLean



A nation which does not remember what it was yesterday, does not know what it is today, nor what it is trying to do. We are trying to do a futile thing if we do not know where we came from or what we have been about.

The American, by nature, is optimistic. He is experimental, an inventor and builder who builds best when called upon to build greatly.

The flag of Rhode Island in 1776, this flag flew with the honor of victory at Trenton, Brandywine and Yorktown. The hope expressed in this symbol of the first years of our national unity is very meaningful in the hearts of those of us who will live in this country in the next 200 years.

ENNIAL

The coin, now a collectors item from 1776 has an odd imprint if you compare it to the coins that are being printednow. A flower, a very peaceful emblem in such violent times, and our new coins that recall those times by dramatizing violence that was knownin our country 200 years ago.

Seniors

I would like to thank the graduating class of 1976 for the honor of being invited to write a message in this yearbook. It means a great deal to me, because I know many of you personally through my children, my work at the Lancaster Boy's Club, and my teaching at St. Mary's Elementary School.

It seems like yesterday that I was meeting the challenge on the football field, in class meetings, or in school plays, and at the same time, seriously preparing myself to leave high school for an unknown future. Those days were full and went by much too swiftly. In 1956, our class had 100 graduates; this year, there are over 500. Some good friends whom I saw everyday I no longer see. Make the most of your friendships, for many of these will become memories for a life time.

Either by chance or choice, you are attending one of the finest schools staffed by some of the finest educators. They helped you on your way. Now, you must set goals for yourself and use your knowledge to achieve these goals, for money isn't everything. So choose a career in which you will be happy.

School days are filled with extremes--joy and disappointment. Both have value, for many of our disappointments help us strive for improvement, and they most certainly help us appreciate our success. May your successes be many, and your disappointments be few.

I wish you all good health, good luck, and God Bless. Through you I put hope in the future.

In Memoriam

We, the Class of 1976, wish to dedicate the Senior Section of the Cayugan to the memory of Rodney Sang, a friend and fellow classmate, who at the age of six-teen, died on February 5, 1974.

Besides being an Honor Student, Rod was active in Football, Track, Marching Band and Symphonic Band. He will be ever remembered by his friends in the Senior Class.

SENIOR POETRY

"On the Inside"

On the inside of me
There is a different person.
I only show her to a few people
Whom I know won't laugh.

Everyone has another person inside
Whom they always hide;
We all put on a front
That we hide behind.

But some of us
Have been buried so long,
That we have lost ourselves,
And we are only a shell.

Our shells clutter up the land,
Leaving no room for real people to grow,
Thus, they also become shells
Making man the greatest loser of all.

– Karen Kuryla

"Silence"

In the solitude of evening, when the darkness is creeping
over all the earth,
soon the world will be sleeping.

This silent night I hold,
so quiet it is, such peace I've found,
a pause from troubled times
as the world spins round and round.

Stars in the sky softly sing and the winter earth below sends back its song,
a sparkling blanket of snow.

It is nearly magical,
like a child's eyes so bright,
a gentle joy throughout the land for such a silence in the night.

– Karen Sobon

"Feelings"

Why is it that people are afraid to show their feelings?
We are aghast when they do.
It is said that they are attracting attention
Or are creating a spectacle.

And yet, we have a reluctant respect for them.
They possess the courage we lack.
Criticism doesn't affect them.
And we wish that we could feel the same.

But these courageous people are disappearing
As they are swallowed up by the crowd.
We are becoming victorious over these people
And we no longer feel uncomfortable.

We believe we are the better for it
When in reality, this is not so.
Because mankind is faltering,
And only he will lose in the end.

– Karen Kuryla

"Walk With Me"

Walk with me
Talk to me,
I'll try to learn all you teach
My mind is within your reach.

Walk with me
Talk to me,
And as days go past
We'll try to make them last.

Walk with me
Talk to me,
Watch with me as seasons go by
And look for gray clouds to leave the sky.

Walk with me
Talk to me,
And as the end draws near
Be contented, have no fear.

– Susan Volker

In the swirl of abolishment
Where the negative is idoled and chosen,
There is a tremor –
A streak of goodness that can't be altered,
A feeling.

But what is the sense of a feeling
That can't and won't be reached?

I tell you now!
As long as there is this tremor,
This feeling,
There will always be hope,
Hope of peace and joy.

– Gary Bauer

Thank You For Being There

The wind buries the footprints on the sand;
Just as you forget my wrongness and forgive me.
The birds warn of the storm to come;
Just as you tell me of the dangers to face.
The trees sway in the breeze and comfort it softly;
Just as you do for me when I am low.
The sun opens her arms to everyone near to her;
To comfort all those in need of someplace to go.
I write of things that touch me deeply,
That is why I wrote this while thinking of you.

– Barb Musial

"The Asparagus Taste"

It was half-past eight as I stared at my plate
Wondering why I hated the asparagus taste.
My mother had finished the dishes
And was about to ask again why
I hated that asparagus taste.

She began trying to confuse me
Into eating that greenery.
She said, "Don't you know
How many children would Love to eat your asparagus?"

She had used the mothers'
Secret weapon – guilt.
No matter how hard I tried,
I could not eat
That delectable treat.

Mom had a twinkle in her eye
That meant there'd be another try.
She cried, "No more food
Until you eat that stuff!"
And she left in a huff.

Try and try and try as I might
I knew I'd never eat another bite.
When I got up from the table,
The asparagus fell on the floor,
And I quickly sped out the door.

Up in my room I heard a roar
That meant the discovery of food on the floor.
When I look back now I can laugh,
But on that day I never dared
To tell her I really never cared.

Now I believe in the golden rule,
And I come from the old school
That believes mothers know best,
But sometimes I wish she had let
That old asparagus rest.

– Karen Kuryla

We hold that most precious
In our hands.
Time
like a golden promise
is momentarily on our side.
When the years are gone,
And we must surrender to it,
Will we be proud of how we fought?
Did we make the best of what time we had?
Time knows the answer
And only Time will tell.
But the responsibility and the decisions
are our own now,
As is the prospect of deel disappointments and times of incredible inexpressible joy.

– Emily Martin

"My Words For You"

All the legacy I would leave you
The faceless and effaced,
Out of hours I wasted, steps I retraced,
Is a light.

All the words, words I would give you,
The empty and afraid,
Is my love and my hope, is my Lord.
All the truth I would will you
In His death and His life,
And His gift – sunrise for all time.

There is a higher reality, a fuller opportunity.
A reason in each step you would take.
There is a freedom and peace, forever and always,
In a life with my Savior and God.

– Nancy Gardner

"Sometimes"

What is happiness?
Is it just a word?
I don't know but I think
I'll find out . . . sometime.

What is happiness?
Is it everything I heard?
I think I'll see
If it's true . . . sometime.

What is happiness?
Is it the blue-bird?
Maybe the lovely creature
Will fly by . . . sometime.

What is happiness?
Do you know?
Do you care?
You'll find out . . . sometime.

– Susan Volker

"Too Late"

Sometimes it's so hard to wake people up,
That only the saddest thing can do it
And sometimes, that's what happens;
But they still don't see past themselves
And their own problems.

– Barb Musial

Life can be just
One round rock
Unless
You carve your dreams
Out of it.

– Barb Musial

Before leaving Lancaster Central High School, some Seniors wish to leave these things behind=

Ron Smith wills golf coach Beardi another set of golf clubs to replace the ones the bus ran over.

Carol Bart wills Harkness Bus 58 earplugs so Tex will be seen and not heard.

Cindy Szymanski and Diane Swing will Mr. Marciano a hair net.

Tom Hager wills Mr. Litwin's students one case of No-Doze and lots of hot coffee.

Martin Wojcik wills David Schuster his laugh, because Dave uses it more than he does.

David Pryznar wills Tim Harrigan some bread so that he can make sandwiches out of the baloney that comes out of his mouth.

Mike Fitzgerald wills a red, white, and blue Bicentennial wig to Mr. Roaldi.

Paul Manning wills a rake and some dirt to any band member who is dumb enough to drive behind the school.

Cheryl Over wills Nancy Vetter all the beer caps she can snitch.

Marilyn Kaegebein wills Mrs. Werick all the red pens and pencils with erasers that she has lost.

Tim Muench wills his '65 Ford junk car to any person who wants to be late to school.

Pam McQuade wills to Amy Damiani and Tammi Beckman all the sticks they can use.

Ken Brodzinski wills Bobby Delzer Steve Barnes' arm and good luck.

Renee Smith wills Andrea Martineck a star and a bar for cheerleading.

David Schifferle wills Mr. Lindsay one, unbroken piece of glass to fit in Room 222's door.

Ken Kling wills Mr. Smith a safe place for his pet plant Euclid.

Class Prophecy

If someday we return to Lancaster, New York, we may find these predictions coming true:

Barb Keicher still trying to shift a standard; Ellen Randall establishing permanent residence in Como Park; Mark Goetzle, John Rayter, and Rick Bulman eternally enshrined in the Dutch Mill Hall of Fame -- just looking for the sign that says "Mens Room"; Marlene (Micky) Loesch working at Disney World as Micky Mouse; Phyllis Godlewski as a weight-lifter; Gary Bauer as the worlds greatest tap dancer; Charles Sorce owning a toilet paper company; Mary Pietras having her own talk show, but never having any guests, because she keeps up a conversation with herself; Dorinda Mildenberger as a wrestling referee in the Olympics; Ken Kling selling junk for the rest of his life; Bill Howell as co-editor of Ripley's Belive It or not; Bill Miori directing an army movie; Kathy Karan as the little green sprout; Allan Beck always having M.D. carnivals in his front yard; Julie Pasquarillo married to Ronald McDonald; Pete Gawron as U.S. President; Mary Richthammer as a neurosurgeon; Ed Weremblewski as program director at W.G.R.Q.; Toni Treeman as an impractical Nurse; Mark Sutton running ten laps around New York State; John Martineck taking O.J.'s position; Michelle Marloth cleaning the teeth of Robert Redford; Mary Ellen Phillips with her own water stand for camels in the Sahara; Sue Volker as a professional elephant trainer; Bill King not as great as he thinks he is; Ellen Boyle as a general in the Air Force flying on the wings of men; and Chris Klimeczko talking to plants.

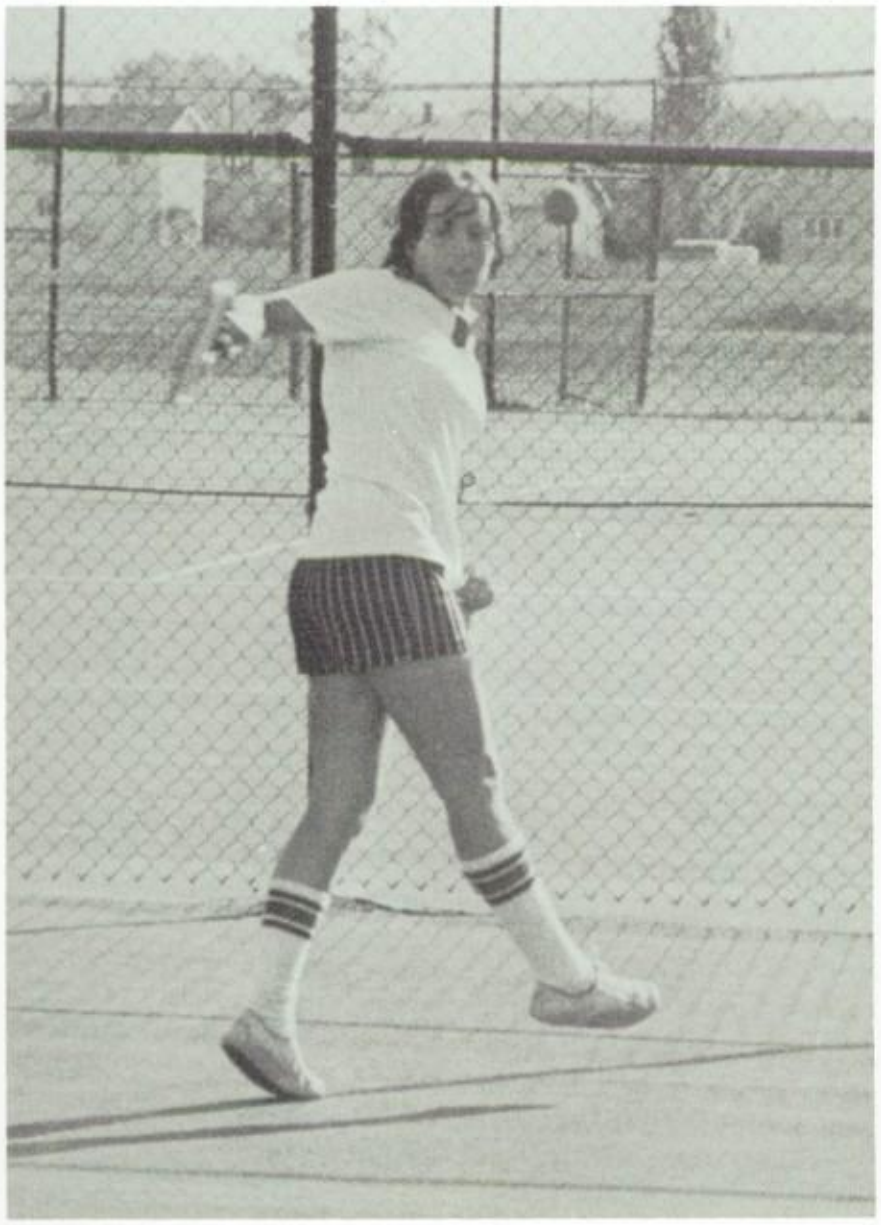
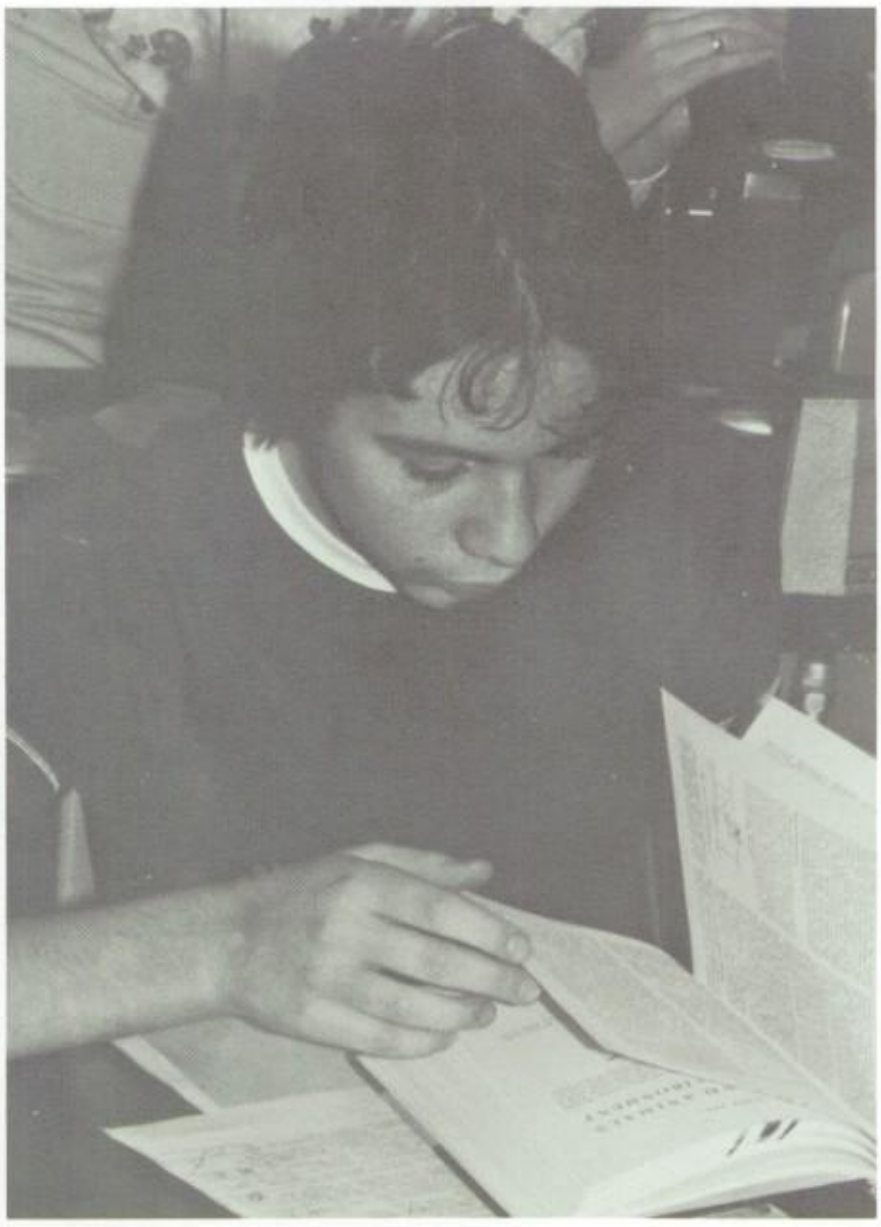
WE WILL
LETS WIN AGAIN





Earth

If this little world tonight
  Suddenly should fall through space
In a hissing, headlong flight,
  Shriveling from off its face,
As it falls into the sun,
  In an instant every trace
Of the little crawling things —
  Ants, philosophers, and lice,
Cattle, cockroaches, and kings,
  Beggars, millionares, and mice,
Men and maggots all as one
As it falls into the sun . . .
Who can but at the same
  Instant from some planet far
A child may watch us and exclaim:
  "See the pretty shooting star!"

Ancient History

I hope the old Romans
Had painful abdomens.

I hope that the Greeks
Had toothache for weeks.

I hope the Egyptians
Had chronic conniptions.

I hope that the Arabs
Were bitten by scarabs.

I hope that the Vandals
Had thorns in their sandals.

I hope that the Persians
Had gout in all versions.

I hope that the Medes
Were kicked by their steeds.

They started the fuss
And left it to us!

SOPHOMORES

Pilgrim

This is a road
  One walks alone;
Narrow the track
  And overgrown.

Dark is the way
  And hard to find
When the last village
  Drops behind.

Never a footfall
  Light to show
Fellow traveller —
  Yet I know

Someone before
  Has trudged his load
In the same footsteps —
  This is a road.

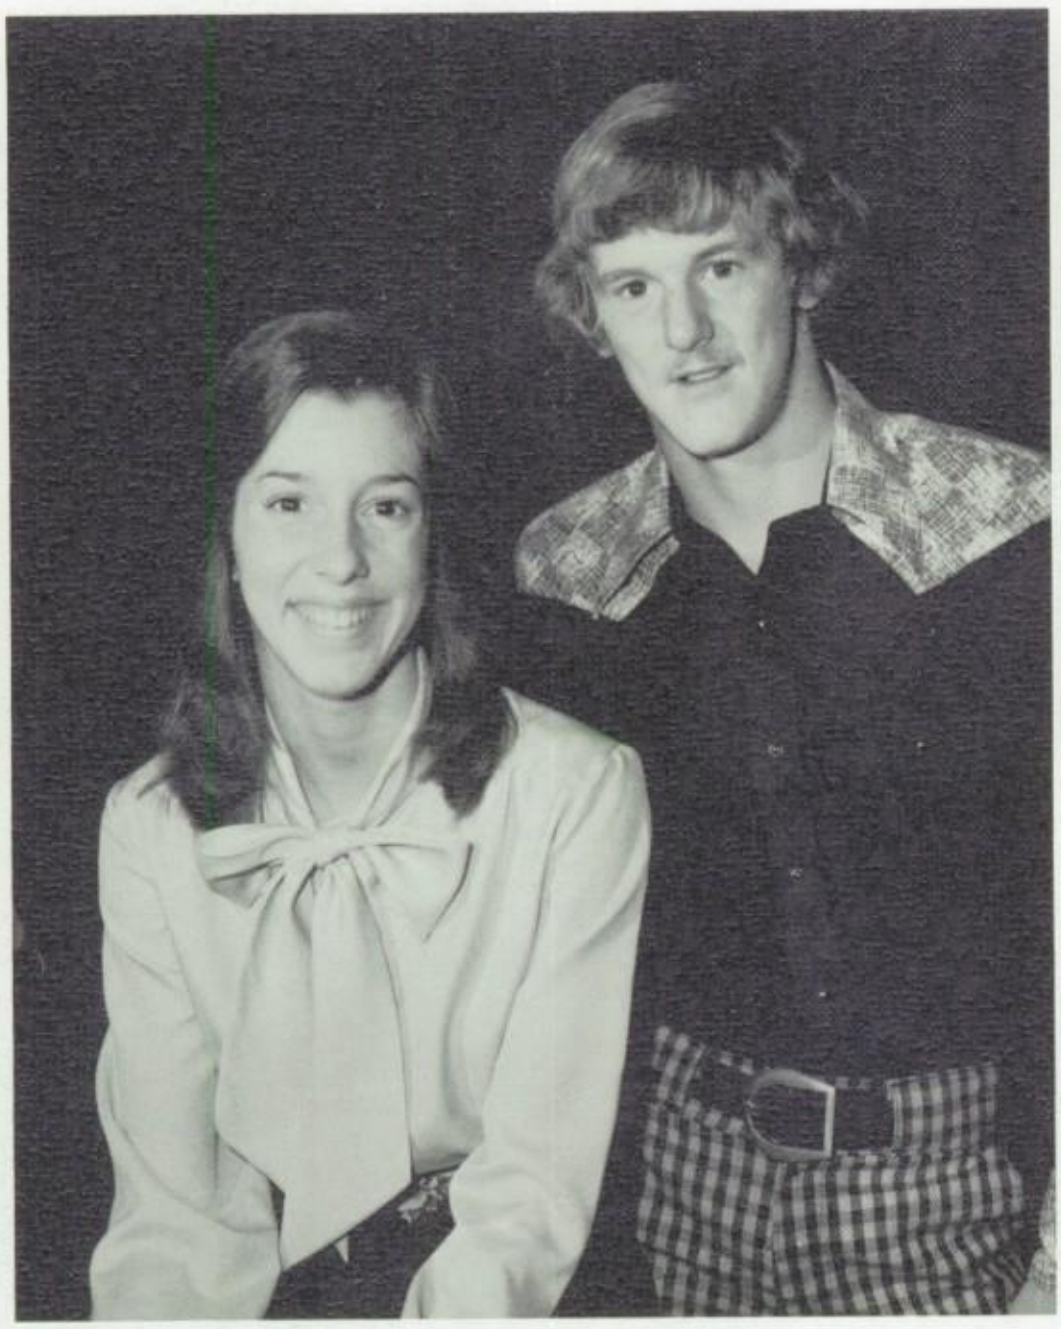
"IF"



"IF . . ."
If a picture paints a thousand words
Then why can't I paint you
The words would never show
The you I've come to know.

If a face could launch a thousand ships
Then where am I to go
There's no one home but you
You're all that's left to me.

HONOR SOCIETY

The Lancaster Chapter of the National Honor Society basically is a service organization. Students must meet academic standards and teacher approvals in order to be tapped into the Honor Society. This years officers and executive board include (seated in front row — left to right), Advisor — Mrs. E. Beck, Jude Sauer, Mary Jo Winiecki, Secretary — Robin Oleszak, Treasurer — Amy Scherer, President — Julie Sauer, Vice-President — Bryan Bingel, Debbie Beck, and Allan Beck.

"IT'S ACADEMIC"

This year, it's fourth, sees the "It's Academic" team in hard practice awaiting competition in upcoming shows. Weekly drills with team members and alternates complimented the team's preparation sessions. This year our team consisted of Allan Beck, Janice Gibbs, and Mary Ellen Philipps, acting as captain. Drilling along with the team were alternates Edward Bylina and Kevin Hosey. Our team advisor, Mrs. Beck, played weekly quizzer for our team practices and helped considerably in preparing the team for the programs.

Mrs. Beck and Foreign Exchange Students Claude Franzetti and Karin Lambers.

"DO YOUR THING"

The Honor Society's major activity during this school year was the annual AROCC (Association for Research of Childhood Cancer) concert, the proceeds of which benefit that organization. This year the Honor Society launched it's second variety show, presenting talent from elementary and secondary levels of education in the school district. The entire profits from this endeavor were donated to AROCC.

L.I.F.E. (Lancaster's Involvement for the Environment) is an organization whose primary concerns are those of the ecological movement. We are aware of the importance of the environment and its condition today, and tomorrow.

This year our major projects have been a paperdrive and a greening committee for the school. Our field trips have included journeys to the Ontario Science Center and Beaver Meadows Nature Center.

Our advisor is Mr. Morganti. Officers include: President — M. Hydock, Vice-President — K. Thomson, Corresponding Secretary — A. Kojm, Recording Secretary — D. Juhasz, Treasurer — D. Tanner.

Lancaster High School can boast yet another winner — it's Speech Club. It's dynamic, it's exciting and it's winning — yes, winning.

Although relatively new (this is the club's second year at L.C.H.S.), The Speech Club offers tremendous opportunity to the aspiring student who is concerned about his future.

The possibilities range from individual assistance to students in various areas of interpersonal communications to involvement in a number of annual public speaking competitions. Already, the club has produced winners in these competitions.

Club officers, Bill Miori and Karen Kuryla, both seniors, stand out as prime examples of the high caliber of students of which the Speech Club boasts.

Club moderator Mr. Sullivan is justifiably proud of his outstanding organization and looks forward to even better things to come in future years for this young, but commendable organization.

AFS

The Foreign Exchange Club is designed to assist the local American Field Service (AFS) organization to raise funds for scholarships for local students to live abroad and for foreign students to live here. The club is interested in understanding other cultures and promoting friendship with them. The AFS also sponsors a domestic exchange with other cities of the U.S.A. Sixteen students from Lancaster, Pennsylvania attended Lancaster High in February 1976 while seven of our students visited their school.

This school year's scholarship winner, Wendy Whelan, is in Belgium. Claude Franzetti is here from France. Pizza sales, square dances, a donkey basketball game, car washes, and donations make this possible.

STUDENT AIDE

The Student Aide program in Lancaster is now in its third year. We have 75 students from 11th and 12th grade participating, the number is increasing yearly. A student aide is assigned to one of the six elementary schools to assist a teacher in the classroom and with clerical duties for the class.

A double period is used, allowing for transportation time and one full period at the elementary school. Several students also are assigned to a 7th and after school period. Mrs. Morgan is coordinator of the program at the high school.

"A Bicentennial Revue", the Lancaster High School Watershow, was presented in December by a cast of seventy girls under the direction of Miss T. Rogers. The production included a review of musical tunes from 1776 through 1976. The finale, "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing", attempted to stimulate thoughts of peace and harmony through our many years to come.

Membership in the Performing Arts Society is based on merit. Members accumulate credit in the productions put on by the society.

REBIRTH
Be happy. This brief moment of pain called life will pass. It will be remembered only as a far away and insignificant transition in the eternal being which is you.

People
Who is to say who is normal and who isn't?

Looking into the mind
Look closer and tell me honestly that you really know me.

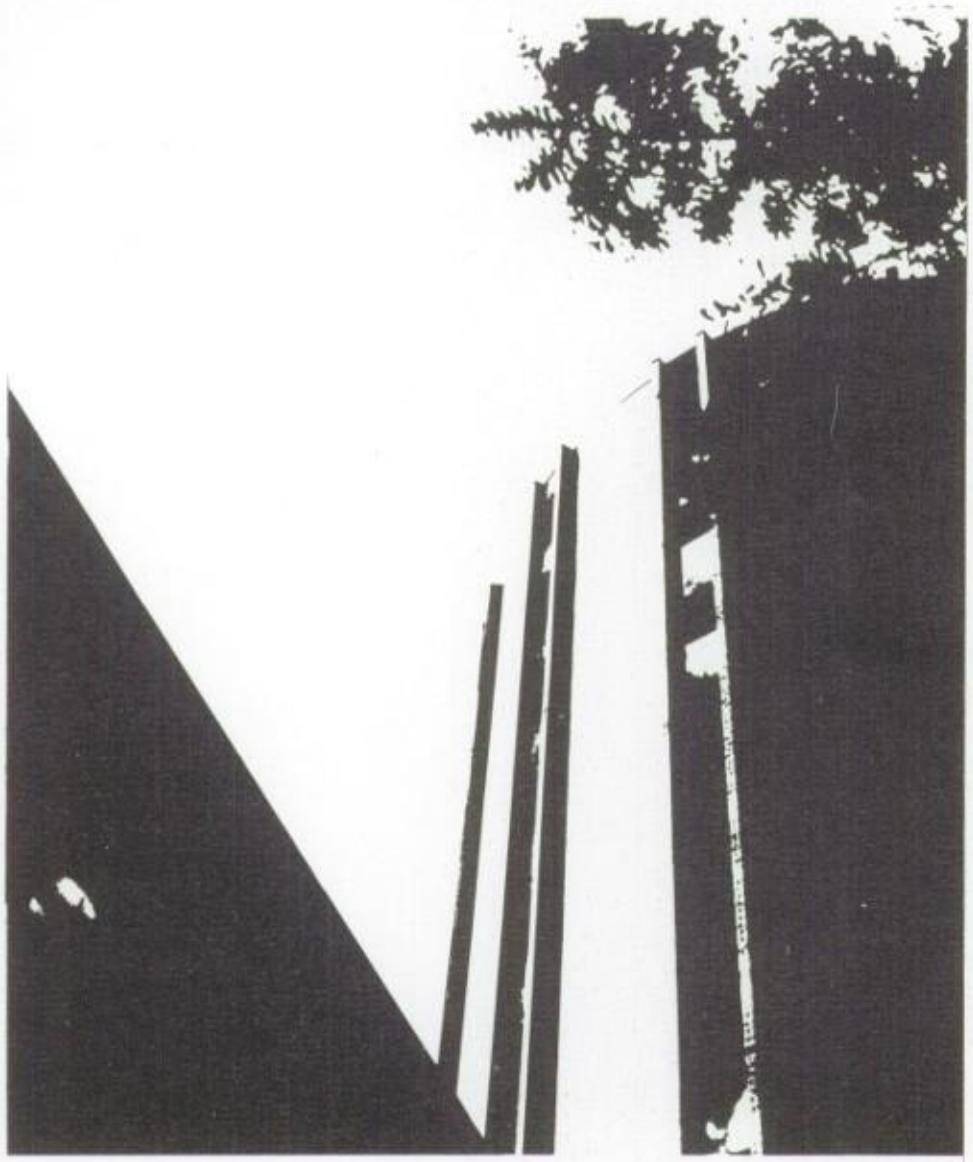
Buffalo's First Superstar??



You'd better believe it – since 1870!!

For over 105 years, Canisius College has brought the finest higher education to the Western New York area. Education that is precise, personable, challenging.

It's a College with a Jesuit heritage, where the emphasis is on people, education, and useful, meaningful programs.

Our over 12,000 graduates are proof of the fact that whatever Canisius people do, they do well. Physicians, lawyers, businessmen, scientists and teachers are among those professionals who can be found challenging the world's problems.

Come to Canisius, a private, four-year, coeducational, liberal arts college. You'll find an unusual, contemporary educational experience which is backed by over a century of academic excellence.

Canisius College is a personal place, where students count and aren't just counted. The classroom atmosphere is relaxed. Student-professor relationships are cordial and the emphasis is on individualized education.

Canisius College and Buffalo share much in common: heritage, professionalism, and spirit.

Come to Canisius – Buffalo's First Superstar.
